

Andrei Bodnărescu

designer (in the making)

about me!

playful!

curious!

Apparently 'closed', I am a thoughtful and reasonable person. I have a strong personality, but it comes out the moment I gain confidence. One of my greatest skills is that of putting others at ease. I am playful, ironic and at the same time strict with myself. I am very attentive to the external stimuli. I love putting myself out there, in comparison with realities different from my own. Design is understanding the ways of people, and that's why it's essential to me.
